OADC Oregon Association of Defense Counsel

ENCOURAGES DIVERSITY

The Oregon Association of Defense Counsel is a nonprofit membership organization for trial attorneys defending civil cases and representing the interests of business and government in the courts of Oregon. For over 50 years, OADC has served as a unified voice for its members, offering valuable networking opportunities, and providing excellent continuing legal education. Our purpose is to increase the professional skill and knowledge of our members, enhance the services of the legal profession to the public, to improve the adversary system, and to work for the prompt and fair disposition of disputes.

OADC's Annual Convention is an opportunity for education and networking with hundreds of members. Educational opportunities include 8 hours of CLE credit covering a range of topics of interest to civil litigators. Social activities include meals, networking, happy hours, golf, and rafting.

OADC welcomes and encourages diversity in our membership and leadership. We respect, understand and appreciate the individual differences among us. We recognize and appreciate that differences bring to OADC varied perspectives, backgrounds, experiences, talents and interests. Our diversity greatly enhances our ability to carry out OADC's core mission of defending the interests of individuals and businesses in civil litigation.

In order to support our goal of achieving a diverse community of attorneys and to develop relationships between the civil defense bar and diverse future lawyers, OADC offers scholarships to current law school students to attend the OADC Annual Convention, from June 18-21, 2020, in Sunriver, Oregon. Each scholarship provides for registration, housing, and meals during the convention, and provides each scholarship recipient with a member mentor for the Convention.
